Human Rights: Discrimination and Discriminatory Harassment

Camosun College prohibits any behaviour that results in discrimination and erodes understanding and mutual respect. Individuals found to be in violation of the British Columbia (BC) Human Rights Code may be subject to discipline up to and including termination of employment, and/or cancellation of contract.

Students, visitors or guests found to be engaged in conduct constituting discriminatory harassment will be subject to remedy up to and including suspension from the College and/or removal of access to college facilities and grounds.

Any remedy that results from a founded complaint of discrimination or discriminatory harassment, must comply with standards of fairness and due process.

Individuals are also responsible for reporting any violations of this Policy to their workplace leader (includes Supervisors, Chairs, Managers, Directors, Deans and Executive members), or the Executive Director of Human Resources, and to participate in appropriate initiatives to improve respect within their workplaces.

A. DEFINITIONS

1. A Respectful Workplace is characterized by:

- a) Polite Behaviour – Courteous and considerate behaviour toward others;
- b) Inclusion – Of people with different backgrounds, cultures, strengths and opinions.
Inclusion for the purpose of this Policy means welcoming people with diverse backgrounds, cultures, strengths and opinions into the workplace. Behaviours include but are not limited to: working to understand cultural differences, working constructively with employees accommodated as a result of the employer's duty to accommodate and valuing other's differing styles and contributions;
- c) Freedom from disrespectful, discriminating, bullying and harassing behaviour;
- d) Constructive Management of Differences – Differences are understood to be a fact of life and are managed through conflict management and dispute resolution processes;
- e) Support – Individuals are supported to learn and practice dispute resolution and respectful workplace skills.
Support for the purpose of this Policy means coaching, in-service training and/or internal or external intervention designed to bring dispute resolution skills and respectful workplace knowledge to the workplace.

2. Personal Harassment

Personal harassment is any behaviour by a person directed against another person that a reasonable person would know or ought to know would cause offence, humiliation or intimidation.

Such behaviour includes but is not limited to: making derogatory comments to or about another person, swearing, yelling, and inappropriately interfering in another person's work, derogatory gestures, embarrassing practical jokes, ridicule, gossip, reckless disregard or denial of another's rights, improper use of power or authority or physical assault.

3. Bullying

Bullying is any repeated or systematic behaviour, physical, verbal or psychological including shunning, which would be seen by a reasonable person as intending to belittle, intimidate, coerce or isolate another person.

Personal harassment and/or bullying does not include acceptable social banter in the workplace. Nor does it include actions occasioned through the exercise in good faith of management's rights for bona fide operational requirements or progressive corrective discipline in a manner that is respectful of those involved.

4. Human Rights: Discrimination and Discriminatory Harassment

a) Discrimination

Discrimination is unfair differential treatment of an individual or group, whether intended or not, on the basis of race, colour, ancestry, place of origin, political belief, religion, marital status, family status, physical or mental disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity or expression, age or unrelated criminal conviction. Discrimination of this nature imposes burdens or obligations on an individual or group that serves no legitimate work-related function.

b) Discriminatory Harassment

Discriminatory harassment is a form of discrimination where abusive, unfair, offensive, or demeaning treatment of a person or group of persons under any of these categories has taken place, and:

- i. Has the effect of interfering with an individual's work or participation in work-related activities; or
- ii. Creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment for work or participation in a work-related activity.

The BC Human Rights Code can be accessed using the following link:

It is important to note that either form of discriminatory conduct is a breach of this Policy; and may also constitute a breach of the British Columbia Human Rights Code.

c) Sexual Harassment

Sexual harassment is:

- i. Conduct or comment of a sexual nature made by a person who knows or ought reasonably to know that such conduct or comment is unwanted or unwelcome; or
- ii. Expressed or implied promise of a reward for complying with a request of a sexual nature; or
- iii. Actual reprisal or an expressed or implied threat of reprisal for refusal to comply with such a request; or
- iv. Conduct or comment of a sexual nature which is intended to, or has the effect of, creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment.

B. CONFIDENTIALITY

To protect the interests of the complainant(s), the respondent(s), and any others who may be involved, confidentiality will be maintained throughout the resolution processes to the extent practicable and appropriate under the individual circumstances. Information that must be shared will be disclosed on a "need to know" basis. Parties to a complaint, including witnesses, are not to share information or discuss the details of the complaint. If the College determines that the safety of an individual is at risk, the procedures and rights outlined in this policy, including confidentiality, may be set aside. This policy is subject to the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act.
